

This is to formally escalate my complaint, as I continue to receive repeated and unprofessional collection calls even after written confirmation from RBL Bank that my credit card account ending with XX16 has been fully zeroized and that the No Objection Certificate (NOC) has already been issued.

Despite the above confirmations, I am still receiving 5–10 collection calls daily, which is causing significant mental stress and disturbance. Some of these calls are unprofessional in tone and are completely unjustified, given that there are no outstanding dues on my account.

I hereby request the following actions to be taken immediately:

1. Re-send the NOC to the following email ID without any delay:
praveenkumar929909@gmail.com
2. Permanently and irrevocably stop all collection and payment reminder calls, messages, or follow-ups from RBL Bank or any third-party agencies, as the account stands closed and zeroized.
3. Mark my contact details under Do Not Contact (DNC) for any recovery or collection-related activity.
4. Initiate deletion / anonymization of my personal data from all RBL Bank collection, recovery, and third-party agency systems, to the extent permitted under applicable data protection and banking regulations.
5. Provide written confirmation that the above actions have been completed.

I would like to clearly state that continued calls after account zeroization and NOC issuance are unacceptable and directly impacting my mental well-being. I expect this matter to be resolved immediately and permanently, without requiring further follow-ups from my end.

Please treat this email as final escalation and confirm closure in writing.

Yours sincerely,

Praveen Kumar
